Salvation (?) Army.

The Portsmouth Times handles the "Salvation Army" without gloves and is firing "hot shell and shot" into its ranks every week. It intimates very strongly that the so-called "Salvation Army" is composed of a "miserable set of cranks and impostors" and that Christian people should give it no encouragement. In speaking of one of the leaders of the post at that place it says:

"We have it from persons high in the councils of the Salvation Army—good contributing members, and who have the spiritual interests of the army at heart—that Lieutenant Vance, the tall brother who has charge of the post at this place, and who has heretofore been alluded to in these columns as a gentleman who might possibly be able to do good service in the Lord's vineyard at the end of a handle, was not looked upon with favor by the subordinate brothers and sisters of the flock. They say it was suggested to the brother that it would be an advantage to the army if he would take an indefinite furlough, but that he declined to do so, saying he was called of the Lord to do battle against the hosts of Belial in this wicked town, and he was going to stay till the last day, late in the afternoon. It was then proposed to cut off his rations, and starve him out, but as the starving process would necessarily involve the good sisters who are under pay, the scheme was abandoned. It was suggested to him that if he would go to Parkersburg and take care of his family perhaps the Lord would be better pleased than to see him howling around the camps of the Amalekites in Portsmouth. But lo, Vance is still with us. Vance is a stay."

The Geological Survey is not needed, as are some other institutions in Kentucky, to furnish salaries for men not qualified either to make a living. Some of the ablest scientists Kentucky has ever furnished have been given their time and talents to the Geological Survey for a small salary. Nathaniel S. Shaler, a native of the State, was called from the head of the survey to fill the chair of the late celebrated Agassiz in Harvard College. Dr. Longridge, since the Senate has shown its marked hostility to the survey, has accepted a professorship in the University of South Carolina. Now the Frankfort Yeoman says that Director Proctor can at any time step into a more profitable position than that which he has filled so industriously and so intelligently for the past fourteen years. If the services of such men are in demand elsewhere, it ought to be evidence that their work here is of value, and the Legislature should be slow to dispense with their services.—Louisville Commercial.

There are seventy acts of a general character and 425 local bills pending before the Legislature. As the constitutional limit of the session has about expired it will be impossible to dispose of them unless the term is extended. A special committee appointed for the purpose has reported that the relief sought in these bills cannot be obtained in any other way. Some of the acts pending are of great importance—such as the following: The bill to regulate the compensation of witnesses in felony cases; a bill to regulate examining courts; a bill to regulate pay of pro tem attorneys for the Commonwealth.

A bill to allow defendants to testify in felony cases; also, to amend the jury laws in criminal cases; to prevent speculation in margin; making gambling a felony; the whipping post; to tax the sale of pistols, etc.; the revenue bill; penitentiary bill (to parole prisoners); to regulate the sale of tobacco; to amend the common school laws; regulating passenger and freight rates on railroads and Superior Court bill.

Policemen of St. Louis are a dandy set of "coppers." According to an exchange they caught the employees of a livery stable trying to get the horses out of their burning building recently, mistook them for horse-thieves and clubbed the poor hostlers almost to death. Fifty eight horses were burned up, and the hostlers were taken to the hospital.

A MAN could not throw a stone a distance of fifty feet in Lawrence County without hitting a candidate for some office, unless he tossed it skyward, and then the chances are it would light on the head of one as it came down.—Catsburg Democrat.

BIRMINGHAM, it is said, tried journalism in his younger days, but proved a failure, and has been down on the newspapers ever since. He is probably so thick-headed he imagines they were the cause of his failure.

The International Editorial Association is being entertained by Cincinnati this week.

CASUALTIES OF THE HOUR.

THE ARMY SKATING RINK IN BUFFALO DESTROYED.

Five Firemen Buried in the Ruins of a Falling Wall—Other Fatalities by Fire. A Cremated Baby and Infant Mother.

Accidents on Land, Rail and Sea.
BOSTON, N. Y., Feb. 24.—The fire in the Army skating rink completely destroyed that building. An adjoining residence, No. 67 Fremont Place, was wrecked by falling walls. The fire was discovered at 12:30 o'clock, and three alarms were sent out in rapid succession. But the flames had acquired such headway that all hope of saving the building was given up, and the efforts of the fire department were directed to saving the adjoining buildings.

The new seventy-fourth army sking rink was in danger several times, but a steady stream of water prevented the fire from gaining any foothold. Five firemen who were standing in an adjacent building, looking down an adjoining house to prevent its becoming ignited from the heat, were buried in the ruins of the wall of the rink, which fell upon them. They were rapidly dug out by their comrades while a protecting stream of water played on them.

None were seriously hurt but the fracture of the left leg by Anthony Cook, of Engine 13, and several cuts on the face by the other firemen. The fire finally died out after consuming everything within the four walls of the rink. The loss to the army and contents is placed at $25,000. Loss to adjoining residence, $1,500. Insurance on army, $15,000.

Another Foolish Mother.
ST. LOUIS, Feb. 24.—A colored woman by the name of Wall, living in East Carondelet, Ill., left her house to visit a neighbor, leaving her infant child with the elder children, aged about six and four years. As soon as the mother left the children began pulling papers at the grate and flourishing them before the infant's eyes. The flame was conducted to the clothing of the baby. The two children ran screaming from the house, leaving the baby to its fate. The house was burned and the little one perished. The mother learned her lesson on learning of the disaster.

Accident at Sea.
SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 24.—A fearful accident occurred on the steamship Mariposa, which arrived here from Honolulu shortly after she left the latter place February 18. A few minutes after the pilot left her, two tubes in the boiler room became disjunct and five men standing near were struck by scalding water and steam. Two of them, John Williams and Richard Carroll, were killed instantly. The latter is believed to be fatally scalded and two others were slightly injured. The killed and two of the injured were left at Honolulu.

His Last Jack Rabbit Hunt.
GREENEY, Colo., Feb. 24.—Three young men named Saulters, Hans and Dingle, left here with the intention of spending their holiday in hunting jack rabbits. When they reached the vicinity of Evans they stopped, and in getting off the wagon Saulters's gun was discharged. The entire charge of shot struck Saulters in the forehead, completely blowing off the top of his head and shattering upon his companions his brains, fragments of bones and pieces of flesh. His death was instantaneous.

Accident on the Rail.
LOUISVILLE, Ky., Feb. 24.—A special to the Evening Post from Chattanooga, Tenn., says a serious wreck occurred on the Western & Atlantic railroad by second section of a freight train running into the first section near Chickamauga. The colliding train was running at a high rate of speed and great damage. Andrew Varney, a train hand, was killed and two others injured.

A Drift in a Gale.
PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 24.—The crew of eleven men of the steamer David Lee, wrecked in the backwaters, took to a small open boat, and were all night in a drift in a gale, suffering terribly from cold, as they had no time to take extra clothing with them. Wrecked men were found and rescued them. Their escape is marvelous.

A Locomotive Boiler Explodes.
CHICAGO, Feb. 24.—Engine No. 15, on the Chicago, St. Louis & Western railroad, about fifteen miles north of St. Louis, Ill., exploded in the boiler. The engine was completely demolished and the engineer and fireman fatally injured. It is not believed they can survive. Their names and the particulars of the accident not yet learned.

Fatal Hunt.
FT. WORTH, Tex., Feb. 24.—A number of hunters went out hunting, and during the chase the horse of Cyrus W. Lambert, of Ft. Worth National bank, stumbled, and rolling upon his rider killed him. Lambert was a prominent member of the Knights of Pythias.

Died in His Carriage.
NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—Frederick White, of the firm of White, Morris & Co., bankers, No. 6 Wall street, this city, died suddenly in his carriage when leaving his home on Staten Island. He was presidential elector for President Cleveland from the first district in this state.

Minks Cremated.
FORT LEAVENWORTH, Kan., Feb. 24.—The government studies and all the minks belonging to the post were burned. Loss, $12,000.

Yes, the Old Man is Dead.
NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—Friends of W. K. Vanderbilt say that he is arranging plans which promise him a vast deal of substantial pleasure. He will sever his connection with a good many business affairs that now call for attention, time and trouble, and will abandon speculation and establish one of the finest country residences known to this land, where he will devote much of his time to his work. During the coming year he will travel in Europe.

The Barren Makers' Strike.
CINCINNATI, Feb. 24.—Philip Miller, one of the strikers from Graf, Monbach & Co., who went again, joined the team of strikers. This leaves but two of the original strikers that have gone to work again. The strikers claim that the police clubbed a union man, who was in no way connected with the strike, for simply walking along in front of the factory.

Mr. Tilden's Donation.
INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 24.—Mr. Tilden has sent $700 to the Hendricks monument fund.

A FLOATING GRAVEYARD.

The Ice Gorge in the Missouri Causes Great Damage.
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 24.—As the result of an ice gorge the channel in the Missouri river is cutting away the southern portion of an island opposite this city, on which are located the post house and small hospital. There were twenty or more graves on the island, the greater number of which were washed away, and the bodies floated off down the river in their coffins.

There is considerable excitement along the bank. Officials, however, say there is little danger of future infection from the corpses. There have been no interments in that place within a year. The city water supply also is drawn from the Kaw river. The only persons living on the island are one small papist and his nurse. There are not in present danger from the flood.

MISS MILDRED LEE.

The Daughter of Robert E. Lee Banqueted at Louisville.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Feb. 24.—A reception was given at the Galt house to Miss Mildred Lee, daughter of the late General Robert E. Lee, by ex-Confederate soldiers of Louisville, and alumni of Washington, and Lee university. Gen. Thomas Taylor presided. Ex-Confederate Generals Buckner, Duke, Hewitt, Echols, and many others were in attendance. The cards of invitation were headed with the Confederate flag—the stars and bars. The affair was a brilliant social success, and up to a late hour the parlors and corridors of the hotel were crowded by those waiting to pay their respects to the daughter of the hero of the southern Confederacy.

Shot by Tramps.

PORT WORTH, Tex., Feb. 24.—Bud Saulters, a wealthy farmer, living four miles east of thicket, noticed two men burning in his lumber, and went out to investigate. He found a gang of tramps gathered around one fire, in which they were burning his fence rails. He ordered them away, and went toward the other fire. One of the tramps fired at him, shooting him in the leg below the knee, breaking both bones. He returned the fire, but was disabled so badly that he had to start to the house without following the rascals up. Officers have gone in pursuit of the headstrong.

No Charges.

OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 24.—The investigation into the charges against the British American Bank Note company of defrauding the revenue has been completed and the matter adjudged upon by the minister of customs. The decision states that no grounds existed for the imposition of any penalty. The commercial courts of the company for years past were found to be correct and in order.

John B. Gough's Estate.

BOSTON, Feb. 24.—John B. Gough's estate is estimated at less than $75,000. He leaves a house and 200 acres of valuable land about six miles from Worcester. His library is valued at $2,000. His personal property would yield his widow an income of $2,500.

Church and Politics.

BOSTON, Feb. 24.—At a meeting of Baptist ministers, Rev. Dr. Moxon asserted that efforts are being made by Roman Catholics in the war department, to secure the appointment of a Catholic to Hancock's place instead of Gen. Howard.

Unworthy Servants.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 24.—Judge Good sitting in the impeachment trial of City Infirmary Directors Hockman and Herrmann, discharged both of them from office.
